SUIT OVER DOG

It Promises to be Costly for John Conk.
Keeping a vicious dog has proved rather costly for John Conk of Trotter. Besides paying a doctor bill for three boys, he has to pay for the time that one is idle from work, the costs of the dog and the dog's training to the decision of Alderman O'Brien.

The charge was made by John Collins, also of Trotter. He charged that while walking alone the main street of Trotter his young son was attacked by the dog. An Italian boy who went to his rescue was also bitten and then when the older Collins boy jumped into the fray he was so badly hurt that he is now unable to work.

Conk killed the dog and agreed to pay the doctor bills for the boys. He also paid the older Collins boy for what time he missed in the mines. This did not suit the Collinses, who wanted pay for all the time it took the boy was idle. Conk refused to pay this and the case was taken before an alderman. There the Collinses entered suit for $100, for three weeks idleness, the boy's sufferings and compensation to the mother for nursing the boy. The case was taken to court.

SO DECEPTIVE
Many Connelville People Fail to Realize the Seriousness. Backache is so deceptive. It comes and goes—keeps you guessing. That's the cause—then cure it. Possibly it's weak kidneys. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective. There's especially for weak or disordered kidneys. Here's a Connelville case. Mrs. S. J. Buttmore, 808 N. Tenth St., Connelville, Pa., says: "I had severe spells of backache that I could hardly get around. There was a dull ache throughout my body and I knew that my kidneys were not acting properly. I felt tired and weak after the least exertion. I found Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Clarke's Drug Store to be the remedy I needed. They removed the kidney trouble quickly and stopped the backache. After a month or so, pimples and blackheads began to show, first in small numbers and then gradually covering my entire face. It was awful. The pimples were sore and the rash was itchy and my face had a most unsightly appearance. I could get no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment caused me instant relief. By the time another jar of Resinol Ointment and cake of Resinol Soap were gone, I was actually in bliss that it was a complete cure. My face had assumed its former color and looks, due to Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. They are, I think, the best for any skin trouble." Signed Robert Troyano, 220 E. 21st Street. ## A MARRIED NEWS.

The Connelville News has been helped to the discovery of a great political marriage in Pennsylvania. It declares that the Republican bosses in Pennsylvania are trying "to hold up the school teachers for campaign funds."

The basis of the charge is the fact that a popular fund is being raised among the teachers by voluntary contributions of one dollar each to aid in the election of Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh. There is no compulsion about the matter. A little reflection will enable the reader to see that there could be no school teachers who do not owe their positions to the Republican organization or to any particular political party.

The News professes to see in the Brumbaugh popular dollar tribute "an attempt to build the schools of the state into an immense political machine." It can't be done, neighbor. It has been tried in Fayette county by the Barefoot Boys. The News knows all about the attempt that was recently made to annex the county superintendent, and how it failed although heroically supported by our contemporaries.

If we thought the disingenuous Barefoot organ believed any part of its own predictions we would bid it cheer up, but its scarecrow man is readily recognizable from a long distance.

The News had better confine itself to the joyous business of recording that onward rush of Democratic prosperity which is evidenced by sporadic speeding in grit mills and cheese factories down Stroudsburg way, but which unfortunately does not seem to overflow into the Connelville coke region.

PAINTED HIMSELF.

"He had the pride, the spirit of initiative, the capacity in business which qualify men for leadership, and lacked nothing of indomitable will and impetuous purpose to make his leadership effective. What he did lack was wisdom in dealing with men, willingness to take the judgment of others in critical matters of business, the instinct which recognizes ability in others and trusts it to the utmost to play its independent part. He too much loved to rule, had too overweening confidence in himself, and took leave to act as if he understood much better than those did who were in actual command what should be done in the field."

Thus writes Woodrow Wilson concerning Jefferson Davis, and there are a lot of people in this year of grace nineteen hundred fourteen who think it is a faithful picture of the author.

WHY BUSINESS FEARS.

President Wilson says business conditions are purely psychological. In other words, that they reflect a mere state of mind, and that if business men would make up their minds that business was good it would be good. The situation is aptly illustrated in the story of the thrilling play, entitled, "Nellie, the Beautiful Cloak Model."

In the first act the villain tied Nellie to the track in front of a fast express.

In the second act he threw her down an elevator shaft.

In the third act he pushed her off the Brooklyn Bridge.

In the fourth act Nellie shrank from him trembling, and he eagerly and with apparent seriousness inquired, "Nellie, why do you fear me?"

A STEP BACKWARD.

In granting a permit for the construction of a cess pool on premises abutting sewer facilities, the board of health has taken a long step backward.

In this connection it might be asked under what authority such a permit was issued. The old health ordinances are void. All borough ordinances and regulations were abandoned when the borough became a city.

In the present health matters the city health ordinances have not been prepared by the solicitor, but when they are ready for adoption it is pretty certain they will require connection with the city sewerage system where-ever that is possible and reasonable.

The slogan of the First City of Fayette is not Backward but Forward.

THE OLD MAN OF THE SEA.

A special from Youngstown, O., says: "The Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company, which distributed over $200,000 among its employees last year and over $200,000 each of the three years previous, will not carry out its profit-sharing plan on July 1st of this year as usual. According to President James A. Campbell, the earnings of the company have not been sufficient to warrant the plan being carried out. Whether the plan will be renewed next year depends on future business."

And future business depends upon shaking off Democratic rule, which clings around the neck of the nation like the faded old skin of the Sea-chooking prosperity and halting the steps of progress.

The Connelville News says the "character" of its editorials are vastly superior to those of the Uniontown Herald and the Connelville Courier. The editorial page of the Barefoot organ of the Tough has very little substance and no character at all.

The eight city rates of Perryopolis will all be wide open during Glory Week.

WATCHFUL WAITING.

The Cleveland Daily Iron Trade gives some sensible reasons why Connelville coke operators should not put the $2 minimum on contract coke. Incidentally it cannot see where the iron trade has made bottom for a rise, but it takes comfort in the fact that the situation is endurable. It says: "Somewhat more serious consideration is being given to future fuel requirements by good-sized furnace concerns located in the east and in the central west. Most of the buying of Connelville coke in the last few months has been done from hand-to-mouth, and considerable time has elapsed since a really good-sized contract for furnace coke has been placed. In the meantime, prompt coke has declined to around $1.75, ovens, while the minimum for contract coke has been around $1.85, ovens. Some of the larger makers of standard furnace coke, however, have not receded from their firm demand for $2, ovens, for contract fuel, as they have several good arguments to uphold their contention that the standard contract coke should be sold at $2. For instance, an eastern consumer has closed for a fair tonnage of coke for monthly delivery on the larger part of which it was compelled to pay $2, ovens, although a portion of the remainder went at a slightly lower price. It is clear to every observer that should the pig iron market pick up and more furnace buying hurry into blast, the spot coke market would shoot upward like a rocket. That is another argument in favor of $2 contract coke."

"However, judging from the tenor of the news coming from all leading selling centers, the pig iron market for the remainder of the month at least, is not likely to turn many somersaults. The Chicago market, after the recent buying flurry, has settled down to a quiet jog. The same thing must be said of the southern market, following the buying of probably 100,000 tons of cast iron pipe concerns. Cincinnati showed a burst of speed the opening of the week, but accompanying it was a dip downward and a flash back in the price of iron ore. The founder, the seller apparently having secured what he angled for. The eastern Pennsylvania market records some small movements in low phosphorus iron, but nothing of great importance in any of the grades since the recent heavy basic buying. Within the last day or two Buffalo iron has shown a tendency to soften but with the result that some fair tonnages have been disposed of in New England and adjacent territories."

"All in all, it would look as if the buying movements at these various centers which have been recorded in succession within the last month or six weeks, resemble each other closely in one particular, i. e., that apparently they were for the purpose of covering almost exactly known needs and with little additional margin. At none of these centers has a single sign appeared of a real buying movement that would tend toward making bottom for an extended time. June seems slated to be a quiet coke and pig iron month as to tonnage sales, but satisfactory in that not much ground has been lost as to prices."

Long as the railroad rate advance is withheld and the business interests of the country are menaced by imminent legislation at Washington, we must expect capital to do a little watchful waiting on its own account with the result that there will be no material improvement in the present condition of things.

The examination in Scotland for mine and fire boss certificates did not develop any higher average of efficiency than those in Connelville. Applicants to these positions must understand that a certain amount of book learning must go with a certain quantity of mine knowledge. Those who failed in the examinations will if they have proper ambition be ready to pass the next time. They now know better what is required of them.

Councilman Duggan is for Home Rule, and that is Irish too.

It begins to look as if the maritime world would have to put traffic policemen on every corner of the ocean highway to prevent vessels from ramming each other. Either the pond is too crowded with traffic or the salt-water motorists are speed-mad.

With the completion of the West Penn's latest improvement, Connelville will gaily loop-the-loop with Uniontown.

Freak weather is making some exhibitions not down on the movie bills.

It has been demonstrated in Connelville that compressed air has deadly possibilities. Its use as a plaything should be positively prohibited in all industrial establishments.

The New Tyranny of Paternalism.

P. A. Vanderlip.
 This New Tyranny of Paternalism is not that of the father who loves all his children, or who, recognizing the laws of nature and predisposition, is not jealous of the superiority of one son over five others. It is the despotism of the office-holding, office-seeking father, who would rather have the voice of the five than the affection and confidence of one and all; the father who says to the one son: "Thou shalt not be richer, nor healthier, nor braver than thy brothers; if thou hast intelligence, thou shalt not use it to advance thyself over thy brothers, but must moderate thine activities so as not to excel them." It is that of a father in whose heart is neither discrimination nor justice, with a spirit of interference which has chilled the industry, productivity and economy of our business men, and which even now is sounding the death knell of all commercial initiative.

Estate Goes to Widow.
 In the will of John W. Stillwagon of Upper Tyrone township, probated in Uniontown, yesterday, the entire estate is bequeathed to Elizabeth Stillwagon, widow of the deceased, who is also appointed executrix. The will was made May 11, 1911 in the presence of John S. Beatty, David White and George L. Whiskey.

to tell you of the frightful loss this means to us. You wouldn't believe it; neither will we attempt to excuse the sensational character of this sale. Other merchants and possibly a portion of the public will criticize us for what they may consider an unbusinesslike policy but we have the satisfaction of placing our case honestly before you. Our welfare is in your hands and we are going to take our medicine.

We are going to do it right now in the heart of the season. Can't afford to wait, no matter the cost, no matter the loss. Our entire stock must be converted into cash within the next ten days. Store now closed. You can't get in until the advertised hour. Be on hand early if you want to be waited on quickly. We are making great preparations to handle large crowds. This sale will create a sensation, so we ask you to be patient if we are forced to close our doors at times. There will be no change in standard or quality—just the prices smashed to sell the goods.

Young Wives 10-9.

A baseball team composed of employees of the Young brewery defeated a team composed of employees of the Pittsburgh Brewing Company last night by a score of 10 to 9. The victory was due much to the pitching of John Joyce. Jacob Miller was the opposing pitcher. The game was played on the grounds near the Young run bridge. The rivalry is keen between the teams and their rooters and umpire Charles Pryor was saved from violence by the cooler heads among the spectators.

BEST-IN-TOWN WOMEN'S WEAR AT VERY LOW PRICES

WHILE the "sale" trumpets are blaring loudest in town and out, give a thought to the goods being offered.

There's a vast difference in the wearing of stuff made to sell cheap; and in the style of goods made to sell seasons ago.

Any store can dig up goods to match sensational prices, but the selling of true-value apparel at a drop-off in price is real store service.

Wright-Metzler women's wear is decidedly different from the clothes in other stores.

The points of biggest difference can be listed thus, and proven by comparison of the goods:

The Clothes are New, Perfect and In-Fashion

—designed and finished in high-class establishments by expert and efficient workers. The textures and trimmings are weave-perfect and fine, with that quality-tone of individuality impossible in carelessly made clothes. Everything is 1914 style—we haven't an old garment from other seasons; everything is fresh and wearable, and made to fit perfectly. Everything is best of its kind.

Original Prices Were New and Lowest

In town—the superiority of the clothes taken into account. Cheap wearables are not long in showing their pedigree. Poorly fashioned, imperfect material garments can't be trusted to hide their origin—and what makes a woman feel out-of-place more than inferior apparel?

This store buys the best and prices it reasonably in season. As our season wanes (about the middle of your wearing season) reminders must make way for other goods. Our plan of buying keeps almost a stream of new goods coming the season through. Nothing gets out-of-fashion or old, because we choose most carefully.
